IV.
FACTS

On or about June 24, 2013, Plaintiff Jamie Andres Martinez, was present on Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc.'s property located at 6350 Browning Court, North Richland Hills, TX 76180. Plaintiff was an employee of Defendants and performing his work duties at the time of the incident. Defendant Manuel Retana, the Plaintiff's direct manager and employee of Tyson Foods, Inc., was responsible for overseeing the production process and the safety therein of Plaintiff and their employees. Plaintiff was working preparing the food under the direct supervision of Defendant Manuel Retana when Defendant Eliezer Hernandez ran the forklift he was operating into a metal rack while attempting to load metal bars containing large pieces of meat onto said forklift. Defendant Manuel Retana collided the forklift with the metal rack causing a heavy metal bar weighing approximately one hundred pounds to fall on Plaintiff's head causing a head injury among other injuries.

Defendant Peter Bernard, employee of Tyson Foods, Inc., is employed as the plant's safety manager and is responsible for overseeing all safety procedures put in place at the plant. Following the incident, Defendant Peter Bernard had the metal bar that fell on Plaintiff's head to be soldered to prevent any further injuries should the same occurrence arise in the future.

Defendant Peter Bernard and Defendant Manuel Retana knew or should have known that it was foreseeable that should an employee collide with the rack as they are loading heavy meat onto a forklift that loose metal bars will easily fall on the employees that are working in the same area. Defendant Peter Bernard threatened Plaintiff that should he not sign a release of claim he would be terminated. Plaintiff did not sign a release of claim and instead sought medical care on his own. Once the company received notification from a private doctor the company allowed Plaintiff to work again.

V.

DEFENDANT'S STATUS REGARDING BURDEN OF PROOF

Defendant TYSOON FOOD, INC. did not have workers' compensation insurance coverage at the time of the incident made the basis of this lawsuit, therefore, pursuant to TEXAS LABOR CODE § 406.033, it is not a defense that:

1. The employee was guilty of contributory negligence;
2. The employee assumed the risk of injury; or
3. The injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow employee.

A cause of action may not be waived by an employee before the employee's injury. Any agreements by an employee to waive a cause of action or any right described above before the employee's injury is void and unenforceable.

VI.
CAUSES OF ACTION

A. NEGLIGENCE OF DEFENDANT, TYSOON FOODS, INC.

Defendant Tyson Food's conduct, and that of its agents, servants, and employees, acting within the course and scope of their employment, constituted negligence and a breach of the duty to exercise that degree of care that would be used by an ordinary entity under the same or similar circumstances in the following respects:

1. In failing to maintain the premises in a reasonably safe condition;
2. In failing to provide a reasonably safe workplace for Plaintiff;
3. In allowing Plaintiff to work in unreasonably unsafe conditions;
4. Defendant's actions compelled Plaintiff to keep working under unsafe conditions;
5. Negligently not securing the metal bars that held a metal rack together that was holding heavy meat;
6. In failing to properly inspect and maintain the work area in question to discover the unsafe condition;
7. In failing to provide, follow and enforce rules, regulations and/or safety instructions for the safety of its employees;
8. In failing to ensure Defendant Eliezer Hernandez had proper training and/or licensure under OSHA to operate the forklift at the time of the incident;
9. In failing to ensure that Plaintiff was employed in a manner that was not detrimental to his health;
10. In failing to adequately monitor and/or supervise work performed in order to make sure work was performed in safe manner and workers were not being exposed to dangerous, unsafe conditions and/or practices;
11. In failing to promulgate, implement, enforce, and/or ensure compliance with adequate safety procedures, policies, and practices;
12. In rushing and pushing workers on a fast paced schedule;
13. In failing to take all reasonable precautions for the safety of all workers;

14. In failing to eliminate unsafe methods and operations;
15. In failing to provide training to Plaintiff and/or his co-workers;
16. In failing to hold safety meetings and/or posting safety rules;
17. In failing to provide the proper equipment for which to do the work;
18. In failing to provide adequate equipment to move and/or store materials and/or frozen heavy meat;
19. In failing to provide adequate assistance in the moving of frozen heavy meat
20. In failing to adequately train Defendant Peter Bernard and Defendant Manuel Retana in maintaining a safe work place;
21. In failing to adequately train Defendant Eliezer Hernandez in the operation of a forklift; and
22. In failing to have a licensed operator operating the forklift at the time of the incident.

Plaintiff, while in the course and scope of his employment for Defendants, and under the direction and supervision of other employees, sustained injury by the careless and negligent acts of the Defendant and/or its employees. Each and all of the foregoing acts and omissions, singularly or in combination, were a proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages set out in this Petition and in an amount that she would show himself entitled at the time of the trial.

B. GROSS NEGLIGENCE OF DEFENDANT, TYSON FOODS, INC.

Defendant's acts and/or omissions as described above demonstrated such entire want of care that said acts and/or omissions were the result of actual conscious indifference to the rights, safety, and/or welfare of Plaintiff Jaimes Martinez. Such acts and/or omissions, singularly or in combination, were a direct and proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages.

Furthermore, Plaintiff would show to the Court that the condition of the work area on which

Plaintiff was working had continued for such period of time that, had Defendant exercised ordinary care in the maintenance of the work area, it would have been noticed and corrected by Defendant. In fact, Defendant had knowledge that the metal bar was not soldered and therefore may fall on an employee, but yet negligently continued to allow this unsafe conduct to continue within the area of work without any safeguards. The conditions just described above posed an unreasonable risk of harm to Plaintiff and others in that there was such a probability of a harmful event occurring that a reasonably prudent person would have foreseen that the event did occur or a similar event was likely to happen again. That is, Defendant did not exercise reasonable care to reduce or eliminate the risk even after having knowledge of said unsafe practices. The negligent, careless, or reckless acts or omissions of Defendant consisted of one or more of the following:

1. Failure to properly inspect and maintain the work area in question to discover the unsafe condition;
2. Failure to give adequate and understandable warnings to Plaintiff of the unsafe condition of the working area;
3. Negligent placement of loose metal bar;
4. Failing to eliminate unsafe conditions after having actual, subjective awareness of the risk of said unsafe condition posed to employees and/or Plaintiff;
5. Failure to provide necessary and proper procedures;
6. Failing to eliminate unsafe conditions when viewed objectively from Defendant Tyson Food's standpoint, said unsafe condition at the time Plaintiff was injured, involved an extreme degree of risk, considering the probability and magnitude of the potential harm to others;
7. Negligently rushed and pushed employees on a fast paced schedule without regard to said unsafe conditions; and
8. Failing to have a licensed operator driving the forklift at the time of the incident.

Plaintiff, while in the course and scope of his employment for Defendants, and under the direction and supervision of other employees, sustained injury by the careless and negligent acts of the Defendant and/or its employees. Each and all of the foregoing acts and omissions, singularly or in combination, were a proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages set out in this Petition and in an amount that she would show himself entitled at the time of the trial.

C. NEGLIGENCE OF DEFENDANTS, MANUEL RETANA AND PETER BERNARD

Plaintiff would show the Court that the negligent acts and omissions of Defendants, Manuel Retana and Peter Bernard, as set out herein, separately and collectively, were a direct and proximate cause of the incident in question and the resulting injuries and damages sustained by Plaintiff. Said acts and omissions by Defendants are, including, but not limited to the following:

1. In failing to maintain the premises in a reasonably safe condition;
2. In failing to provide a reasonably safe workplace for Plaintiff;
3. In allowing Plaintiff to work in unreasonably unsafe conditions;
4. Defendants' actions compelled Plaintiff to keep working under unsafe conditions;
5. Negligently allowing a heavy metal bar sitting on a metal rack to be loose so that should movement occur said bar could and/or would collapse on top of Plaintiff thereby creating unsafe conditions;
6. In failing to warn Plaintiff that the metal bar was loose thereby unsafe and/or would require extra care;
7. In failing to properly inspect and maintain the work area in question to discover the unsafe condition;
8. In failing to provide, follow and enforce rules, regulations and/or safety instructions for the safety of its employees;

9. In failing to ensure that Plaintiff was employed in a manner that was not detrimental to his health;
10. In failing to adequately monitor and/or supervise work performed in order to make sure work was performed in safe manner and workers were not being exposed to dangerous, unsafe conditions and/or practices;
11. In failing to promulgate, implement, enforce, and/or ensure compliance with adequate safety procedures, policies, and practices;
12. In rushing and pushing workers on a fast paced schedule;
13. In failing to take all reasonable precautions for the safety of all workers;
14. In failing to eliminate unsafe methods and operations;
15. In failing to provide training to Plaintiff and/or his co-workers;
16. In failing to hold safety meetings and/or posting safety rules;
17. In failing to provide the proper equipment for which to do the work;
18. In failing to provide adequate equipment to move and/or store materials and/or frozen meat;
19. In failing to provide adequate personnel to move racks of meat properly;
20. In failing to provide adequate assistance in the moving of racks of meat;
21. In failing to inspect the metal rack containing the hanging meat to ensure it was not hazardous; and
22. Failing to have a licensed operator driving the forklift at the time of the incident.

Plaintiff, while in the course and scope of his employment for Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. and under the direction and/or supervision of Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard, employees of Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc., Plaintiff sustained injury by the careless and negligent acts of Defendants.

D. NEGLIGENCE OF DEFENDANT, ELIEZER HERNANDEZ

Defendant, Eliezer Hernandez, had a duty to exercise ordinary care and operate the forklift reasonably and prudently. Defendant breached the duty of care in the following way:

- 1) Failing to timely apply the brakes prior to colliding with the metal rack in question;
- 2) Failing to maintain a proper lookout;
- 3) Failing to maintain proper control of the forklift;
- 4) Failing to properly steer the forklift so as not to collide with the metal rack;
- 5) Failing to have the proper licensure to operate a forklift; and
- 6) For operating a forklift without proper training.

Defendant's breach of duty proximately caused injury to Plaintiff by the careless and negligent acts of the Defendant Eliezer Hernandez. Each and all of the foregoing acts and omissions, singularly or in combination, were a proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages set out in this Petition and in an amount that he would show himself entitled at the time of the trial.

E. RES IPSA LOQUITUR

Plaintiff further pleads res ipsa loquitur in that the facts regarding this incident are within the exclusive control of Defendants. The occurrence in question was one which, in the ordinary course of events, would not have occurred without negligence on the part of the Defendants.

F. PREMISES LIABILITY

Defendants were the owner and/or operator and were in control of and/or had the right to control of the premises on which Plaintiff's injuries occurred.

Plaintiff was an invitee at the time the injuries occurred. Plaintiff went on the premises in question for the mutual benefit of himself and Defendants and/or for a purpose connected with the business of Defendants. In the alternative, Plaintiff was a licensee at the time the injuries occurred, and Plaintiff went on the premises at the express and/or implied invitation of Defendants.

Defendants owed Plaintiff a duty to exercise care to keep the premises in a reasonably safe condition, inspect the premises to discover latent defects, and to make safe any defects or give adequate warning of any dangers. Defendants' conduct, and that of its agents, servants, and employees, acting within the course and scope of their employment, constituted negligence and a breach of the duty to exercise that degree of care that would be used by an owner or occupier under the same or similar circumstances. Defendants failed to use ordinary care to reduce or eliminate an unreasonable risk of harm created by a premises condition that Defendants knew about or in the exercise of ordinary care should have known about.

The condition of the premises posed an unreasonable risk of harm, Defendants had actual knowledge of the danger, and Defendants failed to exercise ordinary care to protect Plaintiff from danger, either by adequately warning Plaintiff or making the condition reasonably safe.

Defendants' negligence was a proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages as set out in this Petition and in an amount that she would show herself entitled at the time of the trial.

G. GROSS NEGLIGENCE/MALICE OF DEFENDANT TYSON FOODS, INC. - THEORY OF VICE PRINCIPAL AND NONDELEGABLE DUTY

Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc., is liable for exemplary damages for the gross negligence and/or malice of Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard through the actions and/or inactions of a vice principal. A vice principal encompasses: (a) corporate officers; (b) those who have authority to employ, direct, and discharge servants of the master; (c) those engaged in performance of nondelegable or absolute duties of the master; or (d) those to whom the master has confided the management of the whole or department or division of the business. Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard, Managers for Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc., committed a tort, Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. was and is a corporation, Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard were the managers in charge of the Tyson Foods, Inc. in question that forms the basis of this lawsuit and Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard's act or omission were directly related to the defendant's business. Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard had the authority to hire, direct and discharge Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc.'s employees.

Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. has a nondelegable duty to provide a reasonably safe workplace for its employees. Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. has a nondelegable duty to provide rules and regulations for the safety of its employees and/or to warn them as to the hazards of their positions of employment. Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. did not have any rules and/or regulations in place ensuring the safety of its employees and/or to warn them as to the hazards of their positions of employment.

Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. has a nondelegable duty to provide a safe work environment. Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. did not ensure that their employees working for the store in question had a safe place to work.

Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. has a nondelegable duty to furnish reasonably safe machinery or instrumentalities with which its employees are to labor.

H. VICARIOUS LIABILITY-RESPONDEAT SUPERIOR

The acts of Defendants Manuel Retana, Peter Bernard and/or Eliezer Hernandez, employees, were performed while in the employment of defendant, Tyson Foods, Inc., and were within the course and scope of that employment and/or within the authority delegated to the Defendants Manuel Retana, Peter Bernard and/or Eliezer Hernandez in furtherance of the business of Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc.. Defendants Manuel Retana, Peter Bernard and/or Eliezer Hernandez controlled the day to day operations of the plant, had authority over Plaintiff, was responsible for the employees and/or hired personnel, among other duties.

VII.
PRE-EXISTING CONDITION

In the alternative, Plaintiff would show that if any injury and/or condition from which she currently suffers was pre-existing, then such condition was aggravated, exacerbated, and/or made worse by the negligence of the Defendants herein.

VIII.
EXEMPLARY DAMAGES

The harm and damages of Plaintiff resulted from a specific intent by Defendants to cause substantial injury to him. In the alternative, her injuries resulted from an act or omission of Defendants which, when viewed objectively from the standpoint of Defendants at the time of its occurrence, involved an extreme degree of risk, considering the probability and magnitude of the potential harm to others and of which Defendants had actual, subjective awareness of the risk involved, but nevertheless proceeded with conscious indifference to the rights, safety, or welfare of others.

The acts and omissions on the part of the Defendants, as set forth above, were more than momentary thoughtlessness, inadvertence, or error of judgment. They constituted such an entire want of care as to establish that they were the result of actual conscious indifference to the rights, welfare, or safety of the persons affected by them in the future. Such gross negligence resulted in the injuries and damages of JAIME MARTINEZ set out herein, and it is on the basis of such gross negligence that Plaintiff hereby seeks an award of exemplary damages in excess of the minimum jurisdiction limits of the court.

7. Permanent disability;
8. Cost of suit;
9. Pre-judgment and post-judgment interest;

10. Monetary relief over $1,000,000; and
11. All other relief in law and in equity to which Plaintiff may be entitled.

For these injuries, Plaintiff should be compensated in a sum in far excess of the minimal jurisdictional limits of this Honorable Court.

X.
REQUEST FOR DISCLOSURE

RE: Cause No: DC 15-05828; Jaime Martienz vs. Tyson Foods, Inc. et al; 95th Judicial District Court; Dallas County, Texas

Dear Clerk:

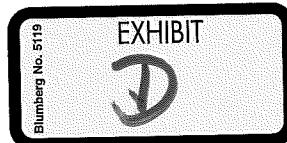

Please issue citations for this case. I have called and left messages inquiring as to why the citations had not been issued but never received a call back. It appears that ProDoc charged for citations the first time the petition was filed but not the second time. For that reason I am paying or repaying for the citations now.

I would appreciate it very much if you could expedite the citations as the case is already on the DWOP docket. Thank you for your kind courtesies and professionalism.

Sincerely,

Marisol Lopez

IV.
FACTS

On or about June 24, 2013, Plaintiff Jamie Andres Martinez, was present on Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc.'s property located at 6350 Browning Court, North Richland Hills, TX 76180. Plaintiff was an employee of Defendants and performing his work duties at the time of the incident. Defendant Manuel Retana, the Plaintiff's direct manager and employee of Tyson Foods, Inc., was responsible for overseeing the production process and the safety therein of Plaintiff and their employees. Plaintiff was working preparing the food under the direct supervision of Defendant Manuel Retana when Defendant Eliezer Hernandez ran the forklift he was operating into a metal rack while attempting to load metal bars containing large pieces of meat onto said forklift. Defendant Manuel Retana collided the forklift with the metal rack causing a heavy metal bar weighing approximately one hundred pounds to fall on Plaintiff's head causing a head injury among other injuries.

Defendant Peter Bernard, employee of Tyson Foods, Inc., is employed as the plant's safety manager and is responsible for overseeing all safety procedures put in place at the plant. Following the incident, Defendant Peter Bernard had the metal bar that fell on Plaintiff's head to be soldered to prevent any further injuries should the same occurrence arise in the future.

Defendant Peter Bernard and Defendant Manuel Retana knew or should have known that it was foreseeable that should an employee collide with the rack as they are loading heavy meat onto a forklift that loose metal bars will easily fall on the employees that are working in the same area. Defendant Peter Bernard threatened Plaintiff that should he not sign a release of claim he would be terminated. Plaintiff did not sign a release of claim and instead sought medical care on his own. Once the company received notification from a private doctor the company allowed Plaintiff to work again.

V.

DEFENDANT'S STATUS REGARDING BURDEN OF PROOF

Defendant TYSON FOOD, INC. did not have workers' compensation insurance coverage at the time of the incident made the basis of this lawsuit, therefore, pursuant to TEXAS LABOR CODE § 406.033, it is not a defense that:

1. The employee was guilty of contributory negligence;
2. The employee assumed the risk of injury; or
3. The injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow employee.

A cause of action may not be waived by an employee before the employee's injury. Any agreements by an employee to waive a cause of action or any right described above before the employee's injury is void and unenforceable.

VI.
CAUSES OF ACTION

A. NEGLIGENCE OF DEFENDANT, TYSON FOODS, INC.

Defendant Tyson Food's conduct, and that of its agents, servants, and employees, acting within the course and scope of their employment, constituted negligence and a breach of the duty to exercise that degree of care that would be used by an ordinary entity under the same or similar circumstances in the following respects:

1. In failing to maintain the premises in a reasonably safe condition;
2. In failing to provide a reasonably safe workplace for Plaintiff;
3. In allowing Plaintiff to work in unreasonably unsafe conditions;
4. Defendant's actions compelled Plaintiff to keep working under unsafe conditions;
5. Negligently not securing the metal bars that held a metal rack together that was holding heavy meat;
6. In failing to properly inspect and maintain the work area in question to discover the unsafe condition;
7. In failing to provide, follow and enforce rules, regulations and/or safety instructions for the safety of its employees;
8. In failing to ensure Defendant Eliezer Hernandez had proper training and/or licensure under OSHA to operate the forklift at the time of the incident;
9. In failing to ensure that Plaintiff was employed in a manner that was not detrimental to his health;
10. In failing to adequately monitor and/or supervise work performed in order to make sure work was performed in safe manner and workers were not being exposed to dangerous, unsafe conditions and/or practices;
11. In failing to promulgate, implement, enforce, and/or ensure compliance with adequate safety procedures, policies, and practices;
12. In rushing and pushing workers on a fast paced schedule;
13. In failing to take all reasonable precautions for the safety of all workers;

14. In failing to eliminate unsafe methods and operations;
15. In failing to provide training to Plaintiff and/or his co-workers;
16. In failing to hold safety meetings and/or posting safety rules;
17. In failing to provide the proper equipment for which to do the work;
18. In failing to provide adequate equipment to move and/or store materials and/or frozen heavy meat;
19. In failing to provide adequate assistance in the moving of frozen heavy meat
20. In failing to adequately train Defendant Peter Bernard and Defendant Manuel Retana in maintaining a safe work place;
21. In failing to adequately train Defendant Eliezer Hernandez in the operation of a forklift; and
22. In failing to have a licensed operator operating the forklift at the time of the incident.

Plaintiff, while in the course and scope of his employment for Defendants, and under the direction and supervision of other employees, sustained injury by the careless and negligent acts of the Defendant and/or its employees. Each and all of the foregoing acts and omissions, singularly or in combination, were a proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages set out in this Petition and in an amount that she would show himself entitled at the time of the trial.

B. GROSS NEGLIGENCE OF DEFENDANT, TYSON FOODS, INC.

Defendant's acts and/or omissions as described above demonstrated such entire want of care that said acts and/or omissions were the result of actual conscious indifference to the rights, safety, and/or welfare of Plaintiff Jaimes Martinez. Such acts and/or omissions, singularly or in combination, were a direct and proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages.

Furthermore, Plaintiff would show to the Court that the condition of the work area on which

Plaintiff was working had continued for such period of time that, had Defendant exercised ordinary care in the maintenance of the work area, it would have been noticed and corrected by Defendant. In fact, Defendant had knowledge that the metal bar was not soldered and therefore may fall on an employee, but yet negligently continued to allow this unsafe conduct to continue within the area of work without any safeguards. The conditions just described above posed an unreasonable risk of harm to Plaintiff and others in that there was such a probability of a harmful event occurring that a reasonably prudent person would have foreseen that the event did occur or a similar event was likely to happen again. That is, Defendant did not exercise reasonable care to reduce or eliminate the risk even after having knowledge of said unsafe practices. The negligent, careless, or reckless acts or omissions of Defendant consisted of one or more of the following:

1. Failure to properly inspect and maintain the work area in question to discover the unsafe condition;
2. Failure to give adequate and understandable warnings to Plaintiff of the unsafe condition of the working area;
3. Negligent placement of loose metal bar;
4. Failing to eliminate unsafe conditions after having actual, subjective awareness of the risk of said unsafe condition posed to employees and/or Plaintiff;
5. Failure to provide necessary and proper procedures;
6. Failing to eliminate unsafe conditions when viewed objectively from Defendant Tyson Food's standpoint, said unsafe condition at the time Plaintiff was injured, involved an extreme degree of risk, considering the probability and magnitude of the potential harm to others;
7. Negligently rushed and pushed employees on a fast paced schedule without regard to said unsafe conditions; and
8. Failing to have a licensed operator driving the forklift at the time of the incident.

Plaintiff, while in the course and scope of his employment for Defendants, and under the direction and supervision of other employees, sustained injury by the careless and negligent acts of the Defendant and/or its employees. Each and all of the foregoing acts and omissions, singularly or in combination, were a proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages set out in this Petition and in an amount that she would show himself entitled at the time of the trial.

C. NEGLIGENCE OF DEFENDANTS, MANUEL RETANA AND PETER BERNARD

Plaintiff would show the Court that the negligent acts and omissions of Defendants, Manuel Retana and Peter Bernard, as set out herein, separately and collectively, were a direct and proximate cause of the incident in question and the resulting injuries and damages sustained by Plaintiff. Said acts and omissions by Defendants are, including, but not limited to the following:

1. In failing to maintain the premises in a reasonably safe condition;
2. In failing to provide a reasonably safe workplace for Plaintiff;
3. In allowing Plaintiff to work in unreasonably unsafe conditions;
4. Defendants' actions compelled Plaintiff to keep working under unsafe conditions;
5. Negligently allowing a heavy metal bar sitting on a metal rack to be loose so that should movement occur said bar could and/or would collapse on top of Plaintiff thereby creating unsafe conditions;
6. In failing to warn Plaintiff that the metal bar was loose thereby unsafe and/or would require extra care;
7. In failing to properly inspect and maintain the work area in question to discover the unsafe condition;
8. In failing to provide, follow and enforce rules, regulations and/or safety instructions for the safety of its employees;

9. In failing to ensure that Plaintiff was employed in a manner that was not detrimental to his health;
10. In failing to adequately monitor and/or supervise work performed in order to make sure work was performed in safe manner and workers were not being exposed to dangerous, unsafe conditions and/or practices;
11. In failing to promulgate, implement, enforce, and/or ensure compliance with adequate safety procedures, policies, and practices;
12. In rushing and pushing workers on a fast paced schedule;
13. In failing to take all reasonable precautions for the safety of all workers;
14. In failing to eliminate unsafe methods and operations;
15. In failing to provide training to Plaintiff and/or his co-workers;
16. In failing to hold safety meetings and/or posting safety rules;
17. In failing to provide the proper equipment for which to do the work;
18. In failing to provide adequate equipment to move and/or store materials and/or frozen meat;
19. In failing to provide adequate personnel to move racks of meat properly;
20. In failing to provide adequate assistance in the moving of racks of meat;
21. In failing to inspect the metal rack containing the hanging meat to ensure it was not hazardous; and
22. Failing to have a licensed operator driving the forklift at the time of the incident.

Plaintiff, while in the course and scope of his employment for Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. and under the direction and/or supervision of Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard, employees of Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc., Plaintiff sustained injury by the careless and negligent acts of Defendants.

D. NEGLIGENCE OF DEFENDANT, ELIEZER HERNANDEZ

Defendant, Eliezer Hernandez, had a duty to exercise ordinary care and operate the forklift reasonably and prudently. Defendant breached the duty of care in the following way:

- 1) Failing to timely apply the brakes prior to colliding with the metal rack in question;
- 2) Failing to maintain a proper lookout;
- 3) Failing to maintain proper control of the forklift;
- 4) Failing to properly steer the forklift so as not to collide with the metal rack;
- 5) Failing to have the proper licensure to operate a forklift; and
- 6) For operating a forklift without proper training.

Defendant's breach of duty proximately caused injury to Plaintiff by the careless and negligent acts of the Defendant Eliezer Hernandez. Each and all of the foregoing acts and omissions, singularly or in combination, were a proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages set out in this Petition and in an amount that he would show himself entitled at the time of the trial.

E. RES IPSA LOQUITUR

Plaintiff further pleads res ipsa loquitur in that the facts regarding this incident are within the exclusive control of Defendants. The occurrence in question was one which, in the ordinary course of events, would not have occurred without negligence on the part of the Defendants.

F. PREMISES LIABILITY

Defendants were the owner and/or operator and were in control of and/or had the right to control of the premises on which Plaintiff's injuries occurred.

Plaintiff was an invitee at the time the injuries occurred. Plaintiff went on the premises in question for the mutual benefit of himself and Defendants and/or for a purpose connected with the business of Defendants. In the alternative, Plaintiff was a licensee at the time the injuries occurred, and Plaintiff went on the premises at the express and/or implied invitation of Defendants.

Defendants owed Plaintiff a duty to exercise care to keep the premises in a reasonably safe condition, inspect the premises to discover latent defects, and to make safe any defects or give adequate warning of any dangers. Defendants' conduct, and that of its agents, servants, and employees, acting within the course and scope of their employment, constituted negligence and a breach of the duty to exercise that degree of care that would be used by an owner or occupier under the same or similar circumstances. Defendants failed to use ordinary care to reduce or eliminate an unreasonable risk of harm created by a premises condition that Defendants knew about or in the exercise of ordinary care should have known about.

The condition of the premises posed an unreasonable risk of harm, Defendants had actual knowledge of the danger, and Defendants failed to exercise ordinary care to protect Plaintiff from danger, either by adequately warning Plaintiff or making the condition reasonably safe.

Defendants' negligence was a proximate cause of Plaintiff's injuries and damages as set out in this Petition and in an amount that she would show herself entitled at the time of the trial.

G. GROSS NEGLIGENCE/MALICE OF DEFENDANT TYSON FOODS, INC. - THEORY OF VICE PRINCIPAL AND NONDELEGABLE DUTY

Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc., is liable for exemplary damages for the gross negligence and/or malice of Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard through the actions and/or inactions of a vice principal. A vice principal encompasses: (a) corporate officers; (b) those who have authority to employ, direct, and discharge servants of the master; (c) those engaged in performance of nondelegable or absolute duties of the master; or (d) those to whom the master has confided the management of the whole or department or division of the business. Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard, Managers for Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc., committed a tort, Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. was and is a corporation, Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard were the managers in charge of the Tyson Foods, Inc. in question that forms the basis of this lawsuit and Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard's act or omission were directly related to the defendant's business. Defendants Manuel Retana and/or Peter Bernard had the authority to hire, direct and discharge Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc.'s employees.

Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. has a nondelegable duty to provide a reasonably safe workplace for its employees. Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. has a nondelegable duty to provide rules and regulations for the safety of its employees and/or to warn them as to the hazards of their positions of employment. Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. did not have any rules and/or regulations in place ensuring the safety of its employees and/or to warn them as to the hazards of their positions of employment.

Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. has a nondelegable duty to provide a safe work environment. Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. did not ensure that their employees working for the store in question had a safe place to work.

Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc. has a nondelegable duty to furnish reasonably safe machinery or instrumentalities with which its employees are to labor.

H. VICARIOUS LIABILITY-RESPONDEAT SUPERIOR

The acts of Defendants Manuel Retana, Peter Bernard and/or Eliezer Hernandez, employees, were performed while in the employment of defendant, Tyson Foods, Inc., and were within the course and scope of that employment and/or within the authority delegated to the Defendants Manuel Retana, Peter Bernard and/or Eliezer Hernandez in furtherance of the business of Defendant Tyson Foods, Inc.. Defendants Manuel Retana, Peter Bernard and/or Eliezer Hernandez controlled the day to day operations of the plant, had authority over Plaintiff, was responsible for the employees and/or hired personnel, among other duties.

VII.
PRE-EXISTING CONDITION

In the alternative, Plaintiff would show that if any injury and/or condition from which she currently suffers was pre-existing, then such condition was aggravated, exacerbated, and/or made worse by the negligence of the Defendants herein.

VIII.
EXEMPLARY DAMAGES

The harm and damages of Plaintiff resulted from a specific intent by Defendants to cause substantial injury to him. In the alternative, her injuries resulted from an act or omission of Defendants which, when viewed objectively from the standpoint of Defendants at the time of its occurrence, involved an extreme degree of risk, considering the probability and magnitude of the potential harm to others and of which Defendants had actual, subjective awareness of the risk involved, but nevertheless proceeded with conscious indifference to the rights, safety, or welfare of others.

The acts and omissions on the part of the Defendants, as set forth above, were more than momentary thoughtlessness, inadvertence, or error of judgment. They constituted such an entire want of care as to establish that they were the result of actual conscious indifference to the rights, welfare, or safety of the persons affected by them in the future. Such gross negligence resulted in the injuries and damages of JAIME MARTINEZ set out herein, and it is on the basis of such gross negligence that Plaintiff hereby seeks an award of exemplary damages in excess of the minimum jurisdiction limits of the court.

8. Cost of suit;
9. Pre-judgment and post-judgment interest;

10. Monetary relief over $1,000,000; and
11. All other relief in law and in equity to which Plaintiff may be entitled.

For these injuries, Plaintiff should be compensated in a sum in far excess of the minimal jurisdictional limits of this Honorable Court.

X.
REQUEST FOR DISCLOSURE

Pursuant to Rule 194 of the TEXAS RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, all Defendants are requested to disclose, within fifty (50) days of service of this request, the information or material described in Rule 194.2 (a)-(l).

JURY TRIAL
XI.

XII.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Plaintiff respectfully pray the Defendants be cited to appear and answer herein, and that upon a final trial and/or hearing of the cause, judgment be entered for the Plaintiff against the Defendants for damages in an amount within the jurisdictional limits of the Court; together with pre-judgment interest (from the date of injury through the date of judgment) at the maximum rate allowed by law; post-judgment interest at the highest legal rate allowed, costs of court; and such other and further relief to which the Plaintiff may be entitled at law or in equity.

RE: Cause No: DC 15-05828; Jaime Martienz vs. Tyson Foods, Inc. et al; 95th Judicial District Court; Dallas County, Texas

Dear Clerk:

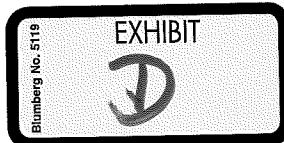

Please issue citations for this case. I have called and left messages inquiring as to why the citations had not been issued but never received a call back. It appears that ProDoc charged for citations the first time the petition was filed but not the second time. For that reason I am paying or repaying for the citations now.

I would appreciate it very much if you could expedite the citations as the case is already on the DWOP docket. Thank you for your kind courtesies and professionalism.

Sincerely,

Marisol Lopez
